EPA webinar to provide strategies on developing workforce, equity partnerships

July 19, 2021 at 5:00 AM

In conjunction with AMWA and other water sector associations, EPA will host Developing and Maintaining Workforce and Equity Partnerships, a webinar scheduled for September 15 from 12:00 to 1:30 p.m. ET. The webinar continues the Creating the Water Workforce of the Future series, which is designed to address challenges in recruiting and training a diverse and inclusive water workforce.

The webinar will feature effective workforce and equity collaborations. Deputy Commissioner of Human Resources at Philadelphia Water Candi Jones will recount the utility's partnership with PowerCorps Philadelphia to recruit and train members from underserved communities into water sector careers. Managing Director of Moonshot Missions Andy Kricun, who is also the former Director of the Camden County Municipal Authority, will discuss his work forming state-wide partnerships with multiple agencies in New Jersey to address the needs of the water workforce in that state.
