May 9, 2022 at 5:00 AM

Next week the Office of Community Services (OCS) at the Department of Health and Human Services will convene a virtual meeting to provide updated information to water systems on the implementation of the Low Income Household Water Assistance Program (LIHWAP).

According to an announcement from OCS, the event will “provide information on LIHWAP implementation, review possible challenges and success stories, and provide an opportunity for water service providers to share feedback on LIHWAP participation.” The meeting will also give participants a chance to review the LIHWAP Data Dashboard, which features (<https://www.amwa.net/article/new-lihwap-data-dashboard-tracks-low-income-water-aid>) state-by-state information on LIHWAP implementation.

The virtual meeting will be held from 3:00 to 4:30 p.m. ET on Thursday, May 19. Advance online registration (<https://acf-hhs-gov.zoomgov.com/meeting/register/vJlscOqqqT8qE85-eLwcSQLOOFZd5hm8YrE>) is required.
